A search of Office of the Chief of Information Officer (CIO) for documents responsive to your request produced a total of 77 pages. Of those pages, I have determined that 5 pages of the records are releasable in their entirety, 64 pages are partially releasable, and 8 pages are withheld in their entirety pursuant to Title 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(4), (b)(5) and (b)(6).

FOIA Exemption 4 protects trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person that is privileged or confidential. The courts have held that this subsection protects (a) confidential commercial information, the disclosure of which is likely to cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person who submitted the information and (b) information that was voluntarily submitted to the government if it is the kind of information that the provider would not customarily make available to the public. I reviewed the responsive documents, the submitter's objections to release, and relevant case law, and I determined that portions are exempt from disclosure under subsection (b)(4) of the FOIA and must be withheld in order to protect the submitter's proprietary interests.

FOIA Exemption 5 protects from disclosure those inter- or intra-agency documents that are normally privileged in the civil discovery context. The three most frequently invoked privileges are the deliberative process privilege, the attorney work-product privilege, and the attorney-client privilege. After carefully reviewing the responsive documents, I determined that portions of the responsive documents qualify for protection under the Deliberative Process Privilege. The deliberative process privilege protects the integrity of the deliberative or decision-making processes within the agency by exempting from mandatory disclosure opinions, conclusions, and recommendations included within inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters. The release of this internal information would discourage the expression of candid opinions and inhibit the free and frank exchange of information among agency personnel.

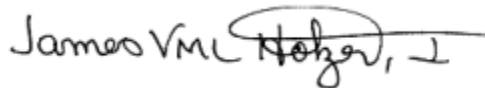

FOIA Exemption 6 exempts from disclosure personnel or medical files and similar files the release of which would cause a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. This requires a balancing of the public's right to disclosure against the individual's right to privacy. The privacy interests of the individuals in the records you have requested outweigh any minimal public interest in disclosure of the information. Any private interest you may have in that information does not factor into the aforementioned balancing test.

You have a right to appeal the above withholding determination. Should you wish to do so, you must send your appeal and a copy of this letter, within 90 days of the date of this letter, to: Privacy Office, Attn: FOIA Appeals, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, 245 Murray Lane, SW, Mail Stop 0655, Washington, D.C. 20528-0655, following the procedures outlined in the DHS FOIA regulations at 6 C.F.R. Part 5 § 5.8. Your envelope and letter should be marked "FOIA Appeal." Copies of the FOIA and DHS FOIA regulations are available at www.dhs.gov/foia.

If you need any further assistance or would like to discuss any aspect of your request, please contact the analyst below who processed your request and refer to 2019-HQFO-00288. You may send an e-mail to foia@hq.dhs.gov, call 202-343-1743 or toll free 1-866-431-0486, or you may contact our FOIA Public Liaison in the same manner. Additionally, you have a right to seek dispute resolution services from the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) which mediates disputes between FOIA requesters and Federal agencies as a non-exclusive alternative to litigation. If you are requesting access to your own records (which is considered a Privacy Act request), you should know that OGIS does not have the authority to handle requests made under the Privacy Act of 1974. You may contact OGIS as follows: Office of Government Information Services, National Archives and Records Administration, 8601 Adelphi Road-OGIS, College Park, Maryland 20740-6001, e-mail at ogis@nara.gov; telephone at 202-741-5770; toll free at 1-877-684-6448; or facsimile at 202-741-5769.

Hope all is well. I just wanted to touch base to see on our next steps for an event. Katie and I had a great meeting and I see a lot of synergies. We should all collectively plan a follow up, if that works.

By the way, great piece in the Boston Herald today, Robin.

Ma'am:

My apologies, the first email sent before I was complete.

The National Guard Association of Louisiana (NGALA) is interested in having you come to address our assembled membership in Alexandria Louisiana on March 11th, 2017.

As we discussed this morning, we would ask you to speak for approximately 40 minutes on a subject of your choice. One possibility that we discussed is the effect of the Presidential election on our National Security approach.

The audience will be approximately 400 people, all members of our association.

Some questions we have are:

When would you arrive?

Would you join us Saturday evening for our formal dinner?

What are your fees for a speaking engagement?

I am assuming that NGALA would cover your expenses for travel and lodging.

Please let me know at your convenience the answers to the above questions. If we can agree, I will have our Executive Director execute your standard speaking contract, if you have one.

Thank you again for your time.

Hello Katie and Tom,

With the passage of the Critical Infrastructure Protection Act there are several new requirements specific to DHS for developing strategies and taking actions on critical infrastructure for cyber and other strategic threats. DHS has key analytical units that have lead in critical infrastructure work which they have coordinated with the FBI Infragard SIG emergency planning group with whom we also work closely.

My colleague is one of DoD's top experts on the intersection of the OCONUS electric grid, cyber, and asymmetric threats. She has also worked with our private public partnership which has given her a birds eye view of the interagency challenges that will present themselves.

Attached is a letter that has been received by the NSC from Congressman Trent Franks that will give you a sense of the important roles of each agency and how they will need to work together. If you would reconsider, I would also like to try to add George Baker who is the military's top physicist on electromagnetic threats. He was personally thanked in DOE's recent report on the matters we hope to discuss. I would ask you to reconsider. A head start on these issues will be invaluable as the implementation of CIPA come down the pike.

Best regards,

Hello Tom,

I am the critical infrastructure security project manager at the Center for Security Policy. We have been working with Congress and other principals in the government on strategic threats to U.S. energy supplies both CONUS and OCONUS over the past three years.

I'd like to brief you along with a DoD adviser we are working with regarding the role of DHS in electrical grid security and particularly regarding the more urgent elements thereof. Please advise on scheduling preferences and protocols.

Washington, DC 20515

February 14, 2017

President Donald Trump

Washington, D.C. 20500

Attn:

Secretary James Mattis, Department of Defense
Secretary Rick Perry, Department of Energy
Secretary John Kelly, Department of Homeland Security
K.T. McFarland, Deputy National Security Advisor
Kevin J. Harrington, Deputy to the President for Strategic Planning
Andrea Thompson, National Security Advisor to the Vice President

Dear President Trump,

Thank you for promising, on November 21, 2016, to direct “the Department of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to develop a comprehensive plan to protect America’s vital infrastructure from cyber-attacks and all other form of attacks.” As Co-Chairman of the Congressional EMP Caucus, I have struggled for years against indifferent federal and private sector bureaucracies to protect the electric grid and other life-sustaining critical infrastructures from the potentially existential threat posed by natural and manmade electromagnetic pulse (EMP)—the ultimate cyber threat.

The Congressional EMP Commission warns that if the electric grid is not protected, a prolonged worst-case nationwide blackout caused by EMP or certain other causes could, within one year, lead the to the death of more than 70% of the American population through starvation and societal collapse. Yet if the electric grid is protected from the worst threat—nuclear EMP attack—this would mitigate all lesser threats, including natural EMP from solar storms, non-nuclear EMP from radiofrequency weapons, cyber-attacks, physical sabotage, and severe weather. The EMP Commission estimates the national electric grid could be protected from a catastrophic failure for about $2 billion in non-federal money, through a very modest increase in electric rates.

I am encouraged to learn how seriously you take the threat to our nation’s critical infrastructures—especially given your history as a “man of action” who will not sit idly by and allow the sclerotic federal bureaucracy and industry lobbyists prevent the reforms and permanent fixes which could easily address this problem. As challenges of this nature go, this is a relatively easy problem to address. When I took a team of experts to Israel to explain to the Israeli government the threat and identify the vulnerabilities of their grid, they called it an “attractive problem to have” because, while existential in its nature, it is imminently solvable given the appropriate political will.

As you have no doubt already been briefed, our Department of Defense installations rely upon our civilian electric grid for approximately 99% of their power requirements, to say nothing of their reliance on life support services such as water and sewage (nearly all of which would be shut down in the event of a grid failure). Even as we spend billions of dollars hardening key infrastructure on our nuclear deterrent, command and control centers, missile defense infrastructure, and even our Navy ships, it is growing increasingly obvious to many leaders in the Defense community we must also harden our civilian electric grid upon which our defense infrastructure relies to be able to effect its mission.

The Congressional EMP Commission found that the war plans of Russia, China, North Korea, and Iran aim at the technological “Achilles Heel” that is our unprotected electric grid. These potential adversaries could attack the civilian grid at the outset of any conflict with the United States, making coordinated use of cyber, physical sabotage, and EMP to achieve a rapid and decisive victory—without ever having to do battle with U.S. military forces. EMP attack is the ultimate weapon in their vision of Combined-Arms Cyber Warfare that they describe as the greatest Revolution in Military Affairs in history, enabling one civilization to conquer another, literally in the course of a single day.

Thanks to the passage of the Critical Infrastructure Protection Act in the form of Section 1913 of the Fiscal Year 2017 National Defense Authorization Act, your Administration has an unprecedented opportunity to harden the civilian electric grid upon which our defense infrastructure relies to function. To this end, I urge you take the follow actions:

- Appoint Commissioners to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) with a mandate from the President directing them by special duty to remediate the failed electricity security policies and practices of the previous Administration and strive to achieve grid security for the U.S. population with all due haste. The mandate should be based on nothing but national security threat analyses and, while working closely with the utility industry on solutions, should preclude the industry from making independent determinations as to which threats should be addressed. Such threat assessments should be the sole province of our national security apparatus.
- Take special care to choose FERC appointees who are driven to succeed in securing the grid in a timely fashion which will keep us ahead of and protected from the variety of threats that can destroy it. The U.S. electricity grid is the “single point of failure” for our critical infrastructure. Nearly all other critical U.S. infrastructure functions rely upon it (defense, continuity of government operations, law enforcement/first responders, water, food, energy such as dams and petroleum refining, and other sectors). Your future FERC Commissioners must immediately make plans to protect the grid from EMP, geomagnetic storms, cyber-attacks, physical attacks, natural disasters, and sabotage in the manufacturing supply chain. Examples in the attached document from recent history strongly justify special national security and experiential criteria should be applied in selecting FERC Commissioners.

- Make the Commission to Assess the Threat to the United States from Electromagnetic Pulse (EMP) Attack into a joint Presidential/Congressional Commission with the requisite funding and mission. The eight remaining commissioners from the EMP Commission are the foremost experts in the world on both the EMP phenomenon and its potential use as a weapon against our electric grid. I implore you to leverage their expertise for the good of the American people in the form of a Presidential Commission to Assess the Threat to the United States from Electromagnetic Pulse Attack and use them to assist in the threat assessment which will be conducted regularly under Sec. 1913 of the FY17 NDAA.

Mr. President, I thank you again for your commitment to protect America from the new way of warfare represented by cyber-attacks combined with EMP. Your victory in November gives me great hope that the threat assessment, planning, and mitigation called for in Sec. 1913 of the FY17 NDAA will be carried out by individuals who take the threat to our electric grid seriously. I urge you once more to use this tremendous opportunity to appoint experts who are focused on national security to these key leadership positions, in order to ensure our grid is hardened against the plethora of threats we currently face.

God keep you, Sir,

Trent Franks
United States Congress

Hi Muhammad, Katie,

Thank you. Still keen on a public event, so let's get something in the calendar.

Please let me know if there's any dates (let's say from early/mid-August through to September) which work better than others.

Best,
Robin

In terms of title – I was thinking of something like ‘Defending the Homeland: the future of US Countering Violent Extremism policy’.

Would that work for you?

Looking forward to what I’m sure will be a great event.

Hi Katie,

Hope you had a great thanksgiving. You referred last week to the need for a look at the difficulties of using certain types of evidence in court.

I did a big report looking at a lot of this 4 years ago. I think most of it still stands up. The section titled: 'Efficiency of federal v military courts in overseas captures' (p.9 on the PDF) and the discussion that follows may be especially useful. Or at least I hope so!

OK guys – happy to say we’re on for 11am on the 8th. I’ll get an invite sent out in the coming days.

In terms of format, I will probably talk for a couple of minutes at the beginning but I’ll be mainly chairing and letting you guys do your thing.

In terms of title – I was thinking of something like ‘Defending the Homeland: the future of US Countering Violent Extremism policy’.

Would that work for you?

Looking forward to what I’m sure will be a great event.

Hi Katie, Muhammad,

The invitation for the event will be going out today. I also wanted to invite you both for lunch at the Monocle afterwards. If that works, just let me know and I will make a reservation.

Best wishes,

OK guys – happy to say we’re on for 11am on the 8th. I’ll get an invite sent out in the coming days.

In terms of format, I will probably talk for a couple of minutes at the beginning but I’ll be mainly chairing and letting you guys do your thing.

In terms of title – I was thinking of something like ‘Defending the Homeland: the future of US Countering Violent Extremism policy’.

Would that work for you?

Looking forward to what I'm sure will be a great event.

Best,

Dear Robin,

That date and time works well. Can you send me a formal invite so I can run it past our office of public engagement? I won't be able to talk about what DHS specifically is doing with regard to CVE because it is still being deliberated, but I can talk about CVE generally and trends in the U.S.

Hi (b)(6)

Thanks for the Speaker Release form.

Re: the Council for National Policy (CNP) panel on Saturday, May 20...General (b)(6) and (b)(6) are confirmed. Sebastian Gorka is invited, but he hasn't accepted or declined yet. I can follow up with him today. Our other ideas are: (b)(6) Please let me know if I should invite either of them.

Re: the Conservative Action Project (CAP) Leadership Summit on Thursday, May 18, (b)(6) (who is in charge of that event) has not invited anyone to participate on the General's Defending Our Freedoms panel (details below) (b)(6) spoke to General Boykin last week, and he said that he was reaching out to Gordon Chang and Sebastian Gorka. Neither has received an official invite from (b)(6) They also discussed KT (b)(6) but General (b)(6) didn't think that either would be able to participate (b)(6) believes (b)(6) would be willing to participate on the CAP panel summit, if asked. I've copied (b)(6) here. You can call (b)(6) or email her directly about CAP.

Good morning (b)(6)

Attached is the General's signature for the CNP Speaker Release form. He said he's fine with simply titling the panel "Foreign Policy." Who has confirmed to be on this panel with the General?

The General was wondering who on his CAP Leadership Summit "Defending Our Freedoms" panel is confirmed to actually be on the panel. The General told me this morning that he has texted back and forth with Sabastian Gorka, but Gorka only said that he received the invite to speak on the panel – he didn't say whether or not he confirmed to be on the panel. The General also called Gordon Chang this morning and left him a message, asking if he wanted to be on this panel. As of this email he is still awaiting Chang's response. Lastly, have KT (b)(6) confirmed to be on this panel?

Thank you so much!

So I do have a (b)(6) in our database. Looks like he's been invited to speak at the Conservative Action Project (CAP) meeting on Thursday, May 18. He has not yet responded to that invitation.

Would the General also like to invite him to participate in the CNP program/panel as well, which is what I'm emailing about below? Let me know.

Good morning, General-

Just following up on your CNP panel scheduled for Saturday, May 20. We go to print with our program this Friday morning (5/12), so if possible, I would love to get the names of the other panelists who will join you as soon as possible.

Right now, I have you and (b)(6) confirmed. I list a few other ideas below. But certainly, if you would rather have other folks join you, we are fine with that.

Just let me know at your earliest convenience, so I can begin the process of getting the info I need for the program.

Many thanks for your willingness to take part in the upcoming meeting!

General (b)(6)

I received word this morning that you'll be chairing a Foreign Policy/National Defense discussion at CNP on Saturday morning, May 20. I've attached your first confirmation here. If you can send back the speaker release form at some point before the meeting, that'd be great. Also, if you have a specific title for this panel, I'd love to get it for the program materials.

I understand that (b)(6) is confirmed to participate, so I'll reach out to him with additional details. Once you decide on any other speakers, please let me know, and I can start gathering their information. (FYI - (b)(6) is attending this event as (b)(6) guest; (b)(6) has shown an interest in speaking; (b)(6) has been invited but we haven't gotten a definitive answer).

If you'd like to host a conference call next week to discuss topics/content, I'm happy to set that up. Just let me know. Otherwise, you can talk to everyone individually about their specific remarks. We will also meet on Saturday morning, May 20 about 30 minutes prior to the panel so we can review last minute details.

Thanks again and please let me know if you have any questions.

Best,

CONSERVATIVE ACTION PROJECT

May 10, 2017

Dear Mrs. Gorka:

It is our pleasure to invite you to speak at the Conservative Action Project's Leadership Summit on Thursday, May 18 at The Ritz-Carlton, Tysons Corner in McLean, Virginia.

As you may know, the Conservative Action Project (CAP) was founded in 2008 by several conservative organizations and is designed to facilitate their leaders working together on behalf of common goals. Participants include the CEOs of over 100 associations representing all major elements of the conservative movement-economic, social and national security.

At last years' Summit, Conservative leaders established the 12 Top Priorities for the movement. As we know, that unified effort provided a template which then-candidate Trump incorporated into his contract with America. Now President Trump is working to implement those policies.

This year we will again examine our priorities and seek to coordinate our efforts in order to assist the Administration in implementing the Conservative solutions our nation desires.

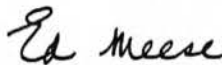

The CAP Leadership believes that your insights are essential to the success of this endeavor. We would appreciate your participating on a panel DEFENDING OUR FREEDOMS (12:00 – 12:45 pm) being chaired by General Jerry Boykin. The panel is scheduled for 45 minutes and we would like each panelist to give 5-10 minutes of remarks and then we'll open for audience participation and Q&A.

The Summit begins at 8:30 am and will conclude at 3:30 pm. Should you be able to join us, Jennifer Rutledge, CAP's Managing Director, will work with your staff to find the best time to accommodate your schedule. She can be reached at (202) 207-0169 or Jennifer@cfnp.org. If you would like to visit any of us, Jennifer will gladly arrange it.

Sincerely,

Subject: Invitation to deliver keynote remarks at Heritage Foundation and Brookings Institution discussion on CVE

Dear Katie,

We are writing to invite you to participate in a discussion on the future of U.S. international countering violent extremism (CVE) policy to be held in Washington DC on May 3, 2017. This small, invitation-only meeting is being co-sponsored by the Heritage Foundation and the Brookings Institution.

Our purposes are to explore various understandings of the nature of violent extremism and CVE; to take stock of where the community of experts currently stands with respect to possible policy approaches to the problem; and to assess and discuss possible future directions for CVE policy as the new U.S. administration develops its strategy on these issues.

We would be honored if you would agree to deliver keynote remarks during the luncheon portion of the meeting. It is our hope that you might be able to address some of the key issues and questions on the mind of the administration as it develops its approach to CVE.

The participants will be a small and select group of thought leaders and policy experts on CVE from think tanks across the intellectual and political spectrum, and we are placing a particular premium on gathering a very diverse range of perspectives around the table. In order to enable a full and frank exchange of views, the discussion will be held under strict Chatham House Rule.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us for this important discussion, and please don't hesitate to let us know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Hi Katie,

Hope you're well.

I wanted to put on a public CVE panel here at Heritage in the coming month. I was hoping you may be able to speak but wasn't sure (a) whether you were free (b) interested or (c) able to speak on the record on such matters. What do you think?

Either way, would love to catch up if you had any free time soon.

All the best,

Hi Katie,

I know this is hardly your day-to-day at the moment but I wanted to pass it on just in case it was of some interest. It is a study I have just completed of all the ISIS-inspired vehicular attacks in Europe, a brutally effective mode of attack that jihadis are increasingly deploying: <https://www.lawfareblog.com/can-we-stop-terrorist-vehicular-attacks>. All questions, comments welcome!

It also occurs to me we are way overdue a catch-up. Would you like to grab a coffee? Drop me a line if you have any free time over the next few weeks.

Subject: Invitation to deliver keynote remarks at Heritage Foundation and Brookings Institution discussion on CVE

Dear Katie,

We are writing to invite you to participate in a discussion on the future of U.S. international countering violent extremism (CVE) policy to be held in Washington DC on May 3, 2017. This small, invitation-only meeting is being co-sponsored by the Heritage Foundation and the Brookings Institution.

Our purposes are to explore various understandings of the nature of violent extremism and CVE; to take stock of where the community of experts currently stands with respect to possible policy approaches to the problem; and to assess and discuss possible future directions for CVE policy as the new U.S. administration develops its strategy on these issues.

We would be honored if you would agree to deliver keynote remarks during the luncheon portion of the meeting. It is our hope that you might be able to address some of the key issues and questions on the mind of the administration as it develops its approach to CVE.

The participants will be a small and select group of thought leaders and policy experts on CVE from think tanks across the intellectual and political spectrum, and we are placing a particular premium on gathering a very diverse range of perspectives around the table. In order to enable a full and frank exchange of views, the discussion will be held under strict Chatham House Rule.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us for this important discussion, and please don't hesitate to let us know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Hi Katie,

We are just very interested to hear your big picture thoughts on CVE on both domestic and international fronts. Any thoughts on the relationship between the two would also be very interesting.

Would 20 minutes of remarks and then Q & A work?

How long would you like me to speak for? And I see in your letter that the topic is International CVE programs. That is quite different from domestic. Do you want me to leave domestic out of it or address both?

Subject: Invitation to deliver keynote remarks at Heritage Foundation and Brookings Institution discussion on CVE

Dear Katie,

We are writing to invite you to participate in a discussion on the future of U.S. international countering violent extremism (CVE) policy to be held in Washington DC on May 3, 2017. This small, invitation-only meeting is being co-sponsored by the Heritage Foundation and the Brookings Institution.

Our purposes are to explore various understandings of the nature of violent extremism and CVE; to take stock of where the community of experts currently stands with respect to possible policy approaches to the problem; and to assess and discuss possible future directions for CVE policy as the new U.S. administration develops its strategy on these issues.

We would be honored if you would agree to deliver keynote remarks during the luncheon portion of the meeting. It is our hope that you might be able to address some of the key issues and questions on the mind of the administration as it develops its approach to CVE.

The participants will be a small and select group of thought leaders and policy experts on CVE from think tanks across the intellectual and political spectrum, and we are placing a particular premium on gathering a very diverse range of perspectives around the table. In order to enable a full and frank exchange of views, the discussion will be held under strict Chatham House Rule.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us for this important discussion, and please don't hesitate to let us know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Katharine,

In my 44 years with The Heritage Foundation, this is certainly one of the more notable announcements I've made.

It is my honor to announce that President Donald Trump will address Heritage members at our annual President's Club Meeting on Tuesday, October 17 at 7:30 pm Eastern.

I invite you to listen to President Trump's message and participate in the conversation by tuning in live here --<https://secured.heritage.org/watch-pres-trump/>. You don't want to miss it!

When you use this link you'll also get a chance to comment on the speech and share your thoughts on how we can make America great again.

Heritage has been instrumental in providing the Trump administration with sound policies and experts who now serve in key government positions.

The Trump Administration has drawn from Heritage's plans to balance the budget, cut wasteful government programs and agencies, strengthen our national security, fix our broken immigration system, protect religious liberty and the dignity of life, and provide tax relief to Americans.

You can watch President Trump's address on Tuesday, October 17 at 7:30 pm Eastern by clicking on this link -- <https://secured.heritage.org/watch-pres-trump/>

This will be a memorable day for Heritage.

Onward!

Ed Feulner
President

P.S. As I prepare for the event, I'd love to hear from you. If you could ask President Trump a question, what would you ask? Ask here -- <https://secured.heritage.org/watch-pres-trump/>

I look forward to reading your response.

Hi Katie,

I wanted to flag up to you a new piece of research released today.

My latest study examines trends in Islamist plots in Europe over the past three years. The report can be read here and its findings were covered in The Times of London this morning.

There's hopefully lots of interesting stats in there but I was particularly taken by the increased involvement of females and teenagers. The hugely increased threat that Germany faces as a result of its post-2014 open door immigration policy is also laid out very starkly.

I hope this is of interest – just let me know if you want to discuss any aspect further. And looking forward to next week!

OK guys – happy to say we’re on for 11am on the 8th. I’ll get an invite sent out in the coming days.

In terms of format, I will probably talk for a couple of minutes at the beginning but I’ll be mainly chairing and letting you guys do your thing.

In terms of title – I was thinking of something like ‘Defending the Homeland: the future of US Countering Violent Extremism policy’.

Would that work for you?

Looking forward to what I’m sure will be a great event.

Dear Katie,

I am writing to invite you to participate in a panel discussion on the future of Countering Violent Extremism in the US. The event would be held at the Heritage Foundation panel and would take place at 11am on 8th August.

We would be honored if you would agree to deliver some observations on homeland security, CVE and current trends in the U.S. Also appearing on the panel would be Muhammad Fraser-Rahim, the North America Executive Director for Quilliam International. I would deliver some short introductory remarks and then chair the panel.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us for this important discussion. Please don't hesitate to let us know if you have any questions.

Best wishes,

Robin Simcox
